South End Mother, Fearing Loss of Children, Turns on Gas

Mrs. Bessie McAskill, 31, and two of her children, one and two years respectively, were found dead in a gas-filled room of her apartments at No. 26 East Canton street, South End, early today.

The woman left a note in which she stated that because neighbors had threatened to take the children away from her, she had no further desire to live.

Two other children, Edna and Frank McAskill, 14 and 9 years, and the woman's father and mother, were asleep in the front of the apartment and knew nothing of the tragedy.

According to the police, Mrs. McAskill's husband died in 1912, leaving her with two children, Edna and Frank. For some time she had been living on the third floor of the Canton street house, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wilbur, occupying a room in the apartment.

Last night Mrs. McAskill retired to a bedroom in the rear of the flat, with her youngest children, Jordin Russell Wilbur, one year, and Helen Francis Wilbur, two years. The other two children slept in the centre of the apartment.

Early today Mr. Wilbur arose and going to the door of his daughter's room, he found it tightly closed. On opening it he discovered her body on the bed with the two babies. A gas wall fixture was open, all the windows closed, and the room filled with gas.

AUSTRIA EXPECTED TO DELAY SIGNING TREATY

Paris, Aug. 5.—Although the extended time limit for the signature of the peace treaty by the Austrians expires tomorrow, belief was expressed here today that they would not sign before the end of this month. Volunteered promises, by which the Austrians hope to obtain material concessions, are expected at the last minute.

PROFITEER COMBINE EXPOSED

Plan to Raise Price at Least 3 Cents a Pound Is Charged

By International News Service.

New York, Aug. 5.—Evidence that food profiteers have entered into a conspiracy to hoard sugar preparatory to raising the price at least three cents this Fall was obtained today by Deputy Commissioner of Markets Edwin J. O'Malley.

O'Malley said he had discovered that brokers controlling the sugar market had entered into a hoarding combine while he was investigating dealings in army supplies.

Despite the fact that the government recently released 7,000,000 pounds of sugar for public purchase in an effort to relieve the sugar shortage, it is now impossible to buy sugar in large quantities at almost any price, O'Malley declared. It was intimated by the deputy commissioner that some of the government's 7,000,000 pounds of sugar had fallen into the hands of profiteers who had planned to hold it until they could boost the price.

"Sugar at 9½ cents a pound is practically unobtainable in any sizable quantities," said O'Malley. "The situation really is serious. I don't see any solution unless the government re-establishes the Food Control Board and brings Mr. Hoover back from Paris.

Not only is there a conspiracy to hoard sugar, O'Malley said, but other commodities are being held back so that profiteers can jack up the market. This is proved, he said, by the fact that when news reached here that government food supplies were soon to be placed on sale the market price of chicken dropped four cents, veal dropped two cents and there were reductions in other foodstuffs.

From some mysterious source orders reached retail grocers prohibiting them from selling more than two pounds of granulated sugar to a single customer in a day, thus defeating the purpose of conservation in the height of the fruit-canning season.

JAPANESE SHANTUNG STATEMENT CONFIRMED

Washington, Aug. 5.—The report that the Japanese government has issued a statement to the press of Tokio, outlining its Shantung policy, was confirmed at the State Department today. The department has been notified by the Japanese Embassy that such a statement was issued. It was announced but the text has not been received at either the State Department or the Japanese Embassy.

U. S. Perfecting Plan for Sale of Food in Boston

A scheme whereby everybody in and about Boston will share in the purchase of army food supplies is being worked out by the officials of the War Department. The date of the sale and the manner in which the goods will be disposed of will be announced probably not later than tomorrow.

"Everything is in readiness for the sale of the supplies," said Captain Teter of the Quartermaster Corps. "We are waiting for instructions from Washington. The entire scheme of the sale, manner of procedure by the buying public, time and place are matters which are now engrossing the attention of the authorities. We may receive word today or tomorrow to start things going.

"Just as soon as this department is ordered to go ahead with the sale the people will be notified through the newspapers."

The War Department has announced the sale of surplus foodstuffs immediately available to the public as follows:

Material.	Value.
Bacon	$35,818,492
Beef, corned	26,483,638
Beef, roast	20,863,458
Beef, fresh, frozen	16,543,636
Hash, corned beef	10,175,930
Tomatoes	5,509,967
Bean, baked	2,835,646
Corn, sweet, canned	2,107,084
Pork	2,073,942
Sugar, granulated	1,478,947
Peas, canned	1,282,495
Poultry, fresh, frozen	1,316,964
Miscellaneous	5,827,501

Foodstuffs represent 56 per cent. of the total amount of surplus material which the War Department will sell to the public.

WAR COST ALL NATIONS OVER 200 BILLIONS

By International News Service.

Washington, Aug. 5.—The war cost all the nations engaged a staggering total of between $180,000,000,000 and $250,000,000,000, Norman Davis, one of the American economic experts at the peace conference, testified before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee today, when it resumed its open hearings on the treaty of Versailles.

Davis said his estimate represented actual expenditures, not the tremendous economic toll or the frightful loss of human life the conflict exacted. The world's banked indebtedness as a result of the war, he estimated at $150,000,000,000.

Germany's inability to pay for the enormous damage wrought by her in France, Belgium and elsewhere during the war was emphasized by Davis.

"It is not only a question of Germany's ability to pay, but how much the allied and associated powers can afford to compel her to pay," he said. "If Germany, for instance, were called upon to pay $40,000,000,000 reparation she would have to acquire a far greater efficiency than she has ever been able to develop. Instead of her imports being limited to essentials the markets of the world would have to be thrown wide open to her. France and England would become a dumping ground for German exports and I think they would be the first to squeal by the time Germany had paid far less than $10,000,000,000. The world cannot afford to have a large nation like Germany thrown into bankruptcy."

GIRL HELPS SAVE MAN IN WATER AT "OUGH'S NECK

Gustav West, a musician of Newton, swimming at Hough's Neck, and a young woman were rescued from drowning today, after a small mob had capered off Hough's Neck. The girl could swim, and managed to get onto the boat and assisted West, as William Markus of Hough's Neck put out in a boat to save them. With considerable difficulty Markus succeeded in pulling the young woman into the boat, allowing West to cling to the stern, and finally reached shore. On arrival ambulances and several doctors were waiting to give first aid, but their services were not needed.

PLANNING TO SPEED UP ENLISTMENTS IN NAVY

Portsmouth, N. H., Aug. 5.—Naval officers here stated today that at the present rate of reduction the present list of enlisted men in the navy would be but 72,000 by October 1, 1919. This number is 100,000 less than the number required to keep all the naval ships in commission, say the officers, and forceful measures must be taken to secure re-enlistments and new enlistments.

WILSON REFUSES ALL PAPERS, SAYS LODGE

Washington, Aug. 5. — President Wilson has not only declined to appear before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, but he has thus far refused to provide the committee with a single document or paper bearing on the treaty of Versailles, although repeatedly requested to do so, Senator Lodge, the chairman, declared today.

READY FOR ARMY FOOD SALE

City Buys Carload of Supplies; Arrange Details for Distribution

Federal investigation of food profiteering in Massachusetts will begin tomorrow. Witnesses have been summoned to the office of United States District Attorney Thomas G. Boynton, and if necessary the Federal grand jury will hear the testimony.

The announcement of the beginning of the Federal probe overshadowed everything else in the food situation except the purchase of a carload of army canned foods by police, for sale to the public at cost.

Assistant District Attorney Daniel A. Shea will, under District Attorney Boynton's direction, have charge of the investigation. He said today he did not know whether the witnesses called tomorrow would be summoned, subpoenaed or simply "invited."

It was made clear, however, that those suspected of profiteering will be forced to testify before the grand jury if necessary.

The Federal probe will begin with conditions in the handling of staple commodities, such as flour, eggs, butter and vegetables, particularly potatoes.

The purchase of canned foodstuffs from the War Department was authorized by Mayor Peters over the long-distance telephone today.

General John H. Sherburne, chairman of the Commission on the Necessaries of Life, met today with the executive committee of the board of managers of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, to discuss the work he is

American Robbed by Mexicans; Lansing Demands Action

By International News Service.

Washington, Aug. 5.—Mexican bandits on July 12 robbed George N. McDonald, an American citizen, near his residence at Pueblo Viejo, six miles south of Tampico, the State Department announced this afternoon. The department was without further information.

Secretary of State Lansing has telegraphed instructions to the American embassy at Mexico City to urge upon the Mexican government "Prompt measures for the apprehension and punishment of the robbers." It was stated.

CUMMINS ASKS SENATE PROBE OF R. R. WAGES

By International News Service.

Washington, Aug. 5.—An independent investigation of railroad wages by the Senate before responding to President Wilson's request for a railroad wage adjustment board was urged today by Senator Cummins of Iowa, chairman of the Interstate Commerce committee.

At a meeting of the committee today to consider the request of President Wilson, Senator Cummins presented a resolution calling for the independent inquiry. Under the resolution the Senate would inquire into comparative wages and particularly whether living costs have increased since the last wage increase granted the railroad workers.

The resolution also calls for an inquiry into the general effects of a wage increase to railroad men at this time.

RESOLUTION REFERRED.

The resolution was referred to a sub-committee composed of Senator Cummins of Iowa, Senator La Follette of Wisconsin and Senator Wolcott of Delaware, who were ordered to make a report before the end of the week.

Senator Cummins later appealed to the Senate to consider the demands of the railway employes carefully and to "speak temperately."

"I think everyone realizes that we are approaching, if we have not already met, an exceedingly serious situation," said Senator Cummins.

"We must keep our head and consider the matter in good temper. We ought not to decry the railway men, making their demands unless we are very sure of the facts.

"The railway executives have been heading an increase in rates and no one denounced them for believing their rates should be increased, so we ought not to denounce the railway worker for demanding increased pay until we have sufficient information.

"Aren't they accompanying these demands with a threat of strike?" inquired Senator Nelson of Minnesota.

CALLS FOR COOL ACTION.

"I do not know," replied Senator Cummins. "All that I am suggesting is that we must ignore the situation but that we look upon every path coolly, deliberately and speak temperately," said Senator Cummins.

The situation reached a critical stage today when it was announced a strike vote of the 500,000 members of the Federated Railway Shopmen, returnable September 2, had been begun, and that an attempt to pass the Hines-Wilson legislation for the creation of a wage board would be met by a complete tieup of the roads.

The wage demands of the 450,000 railway clerks, freight handlers and express and station employes were placed before Railway Director Hines today by J. J. Forrester, grand president of the brotherhood of these employes.

Forrester, who was called into conference by the Director-General, was accompanied by seven general chairmen of the brotherhood, as follows:

NOW WILLING TO CUT COST OF ICE

Lawrence, Aug. 5.—Local ice dealers today agreed to a reduction of $8 a ton in the price of ice, after revelations of 200 per cent. profits were made at the investigation by the State Commission on the Necessaries of Life.

Three leading dealers, testifying at the hearing, admitted that their motto had been "get all the traffic will bear," and that they believed Lawrence people could afford to pay their charges.

These men testified that the actual cost of production and delivery was approximately $6.50 a ton, giving them a profit of about $13.50 a ton on the basis of $20 ice.

The men were John Q. Hill of Hill & Hill; Emile M. Mercier of the People's Ice Company, and Charles H. Thomas.

Mr. Hill told Assistant Attorney-General H. N. Gilbertson that the Lawrence people were well paid and that he believed no one could afford to pay $20 a ton for ice. He said in reply to questions that he believed 50 per cent. profit to be fair, but admitted that the slogan of the dealers had been to "get all the traffic will bear."

HOW DEALERS FIGURE IT.

The witness said that it cost 55 cents a ton to harvest ice last Winter, and that the cost of delivery was $4 and $6 a ton. He also admitted that the ice dealers attended a dinner at Marblehead last May, after which the price of ice was changed.

Mr. Thomas said that his ice was worth $20 a ton because he could get that price. He bought it in New Hampshire, he said, and it cost delivered, $3.66 a ton. He would not say what he thought a fair profit.

Mr. Mercier said that his company filled its house last Winter at a cost of 40 cents a ton. Before June 1 the price was 50 cents a pound, minus 10 per cent. discount, but at that time was raised to 80 cents. He admitted that it cost $4.46 a ton to deliver. The witness said that he sold ice at retail for $16 a ton and at wholesale for $10. The difference in handling, he admitted, was not more than $5 and could not explain why he should charge more than $13 a ton retail.

At one time, said Mr. Mercier, he had offered to furnish ice for the public drinking fountains of the city for $8 a ton, but the offer was refused, as he was at that time a member of the Board of Health. The contract was let to the Lawrence Ice Company and Toye Brothers for $12 a ton.

All the big ice dealers promised As-

$356,000,000 in Food Exported by U. S. During June

By International News Service.

Washington, Aug. 5.—Forty per cent. of the record-breaking exports during June, 1919, were foodstuffs having an aggregate value of $356,000,000, it was announced by the Department of Commerce. The principal breadstuffs exports were 16,000,000 bushels of wheat and 3,500,000 barrels of flour with a total value of $80,000,000, besides 7,000,000 bushels of rye, worth $7,000,000; 6,000,000 bushels of barley to the value of $8,000,000 and other grain products valued at $12,000,000.

TWO FACE COURT ON CHARGE OF AUTO THEFTS

Leo Kelliher, lieutenant of Bainbridge, was taken to police court today to answer three auto thefts charged with the larceny of automobile belonging to Dr. Ernest W. Hartland of No. 887 Beacon street, Jury 26. He was held in $2,500. He was already under $1,000 bail from the Roxbury court on a similar charge. The same officers arrested John Flaxer of Springfield, charged with stealing an automobile belonging to Francis Lincoln of No. 248 Boylston street. His case was continued and he was committed to a Scollay constable for trial on that and a similar offense.

RUMANS CAUSE REIGN OF TERROR AT BUDAPEST

Paris, Aug. 5.—Rumanian troops that occupied the suburbs of Budapest have inaugurated a reign of terror, said official dispatches from the Hungarian capital today. One member of the new Socialist government has been seized as a hostage and proclamations have been posted stating that the Rumanians will shoot five Hungarians for every Rumanian attacked.

MUST CUT THE COST.

This move in the direction to lower the cost of living will be made as soon as plans for distribution are completed by the Women's Committee on Public Safety, to assist in this City Council chamber.

As a result, dealing with [illegible] currency, throwing the wheat crop on the open market, with the government absorbing the difference between the price for which it sells and the $2.82 per bushel guaranteed the farmer.

In addition to the apprehension over the food situation, the labor crisis was also to be faced. It is understood that this crisis, arising from the demands of the workers for increased pay and growing directly out of the high cost of living, is causing the President deep concern.

Congress was ready today to proceed with the formation of a wage board, as requested by President Hines, and approved by the President, but the attitude of the workers who were calling for immediate action on their demands precipitated a critical situation.

PEOPLE TO RUSH SALES.

The meetings of the women's committee in the Boston City Council chamber was presided over by Miss Mary A. Barr, the chairman. She stated that the committee will make pleasure on the part of the public over the thousands of canned goods at cut prices, but said there were many little points to be cleared up. It was brought out that bacon, for instance, which is to be sold in bulk, will keep indefinitely after being opened.

A number of reports were made showing the demand from various sections of the city, and it was the consensus of opinion that the schoolhouses were the best centres of distribution. Miss Barr precipitated an outbreak by suggesting that A. Watson, when she stated that they had not yet been assured that the schoolhouses might be used.

NO CHARITY; JUST BUSINESS.

Councilor Watson declared that the Schoolhouse Commission would not dare to refuse the schools for this purpose. He also asked that emphasis be laid on the point that this sale was not to be a charity matter, but was strictly a business deal between the city and the people.

The following quotations received from Captain Toler, 42 M. C., were given:

Corn, $1.48, corned beef, No. 1, $2.60 a dozen; No. 2, $3.96 a dozen; 6-pound cans, $84 a dozen.

Roast beef, No. 1, $2.48 a dozen; one-pound cans, $4.96 a dozen; two-pound cans, $7.92 a dozen; six-pound cans, $24.00 a dozen.

Corned beef hash, one-pound cans, $2.40 a dozen; two-pound cans, $4.80 a dozen.

Bacon in crates, 14 cents a pound; in packages of 24s, four strips, three pounds each, 36 cents a pound.

Tomatoes, same as corn.

Peas, 12½ cents a can.

It was also stated that a car of canned goods contains about 20,000 pounds.

Miss Barr read a letter from Stockton Raymond, general secretary of the Associated Charities of Boston, in which he approved the idea, and said it was imperative for everyone to use all efforts to reduce the cost of living. Another letter was read from Waldo H. Smith, past commander of Roger Wolcott Camp, Spanish War Veterans, offering their services.

Miss Barr stated that the carload to be purchased by the city would contain nine-tenths canned vegetables and the remainder canned meats.

MANY ORDERS TAKEN.

Mrs. Charles S. Sullivan, wife of Judge Sullivan of Charlestown, reported that she had canvassed only a small portion of that district, but had booked orders for 50 cans of corn, 50 cans of tomatoes, 60 cans of bacon, 6 of corned beef, and that the remainder would easily take two or three times as much.

Secretary D. L. Mahoney of the Mayor's committee said that he had been assured by the government men that the bacon would keep for any length of time after being opened, thus setting at rest the fears of many people.

Mrs. Rose Herford of the South End Settlement House said that the sale in that district would depend largely on the amount of money possessed by the people at one time.

She said the largest order would be one case, as far as she could learn at present. However, if the sales distributing places were kept open for several days, she believed that a larger quantity would be disposed of.

Miss Herford said that in Ward 12 there were 103 cases ordered, but that the people were not interested in the canned meats.

Mrs. William Irving said that West Roxbury had already ordered 3,000 cans, while Jamaica Plain people would be glad to buy if they could get the food in September, when many of the residents return from vacations.

The Dorchester district will take about 4,000 cans, according to Mrs. H. P. Hewitt, and favor the distribution through the parish houses of the churches. She said there would be a big demand in the Upham's Corner section.

Secretary Mahoney then said that the question of schoolhouses had been discussed by the Mayor's committee and it was decided that janitors would not be used. He said that usually it was a case of "cellars and cents" with these men.

READY TO AID DISTRIBUTION.

Miss Barr read a letter from Stockton Raymond, general secretary of the Associated Charities of Boston, expressing his interest in the distribution of the canned goods and renewing the offer made the other day in behalf of the Associated Charities to have its district secretaries advise people in their communities where to go for these goods.

Another letter, from Waldo H. Smith, past commander of Roger Wolcott Camp, U. S. W. V., was read. It was as follows:

"I am one of those who can say that I am very sincerely in sympathy with your proposition to see that the army supplies are distributed without any hindrance from graft. I want to be 'in' on the distribution, and will wait anxiously for any detailed information that may be forthcoming.

"I have a suggestion to make. In this city there are several camps of the United Spanish War Veterans, all composed of family men and the greater part of us wage earners. Several of our camps are in permanent quarters of our own, and it might be possible for us to help you in making up the list of stations. I would refer you to the chairman, Commander Timothy W. Kelly, in the Soldiers' Relief Department, Room 66, or to our department headquarters, Room 41, City Hall. He may be able to help you out further.

"My own camp has a building of its own, and if you will communicate with the commander, James F. White, it might be possible to get it for a period."

PURCHASE AUTHORIZED.

Just before the women adjourned Acting Mayor Ford entered and congratulated them on their public spirit. At the close of the meeting Mayor Peters' secretary, Edwin V. H. Parke, issued the following official statement: "The Mayor's office today announces that Thomas J. Dawson, superintendent of supplies, was authorized to buy a carload of canned goods now in the possession of the War Department for sale in Boston under the direction of the Boston Women's Committee on Public Service.

"In accordance with the recommendation, one carload of canned goods will be bought. The carload will consist nine-tenths of canned vegetables such as peas, corn and tomatoes, and one-tenth of roast beef, corned beef, hash and bacon.

"The Women's Committee on Public Service will have the distribution of the canned goods, according to recommendation of the Mayor's special advisory committee. The Women's Committee is at present at work with Superintendent of Public Buildings F. J. Kneeland arranging for distribution centres."

Greatest Lion House in the World for Franklin Park

Boston is to have the best lion house in the world. It is to be located at Franklin Park, and will probably cost $120,000.

In addition to lions the building will house leopards, jaguars and lancelots. At least twenty wild animals will be kept in the structure.

This information was made public today by George P. Morse, Jr., curator of the Franklin Park zoo, who has just returned from a trip to New York, Philadelphia and Washington, where he inspected lion houses in the zoos of those cities.

"I hope to make Boston's lion house the finest in the world," said Mr. Richards.

WHITTEMORE IS RELEASED ON PAROLE

Charles S. Whittemore of Malden, the sixty-eight-year-old conspirator in the Everett holdup of last December, was paroled from East Cambridge jail today on account of ill health, after serving forty days of his six-months sentence.

Whittemore was auditor for the General Electric Company, whose paymaster, Frank R. Brown, was held up, seriously wounded and robbed of $13,000 by bandits in an automobile. Whittemore, who was in the plot, watched proceedings from a store window. The discovery that he was involved in the case created great surprise on account of his years and his high reputation as a reputable citizen.

His age, ill health and confession counted in his favor when a six-months' jail sentence was imposed on June 25.

He has collapsed several times in jail on account of heart trouble. Parole for his parole was signed today by District Attorney Nathan A. Tufts, Assistant District Attorney George Stanley Harvey and Probation Officer Daniel F. Hayes. The petition was approved by the Middlesex County Commissioners, who ordered his release. Whittemore was taken to his Everett home.

FOUR MOTORISTS IN COURT AT HINGHAM

Four motorists were fined in Hingham Court today. William Smith of Boston paid $10 for not having his lights properly lighted; Fenlin L. Johnson of Boston, $15 for overspeeding at Nantasket; Alfred Lentin Hart of Brockton, $10 for improper lights; Alfred Testa, Brockton, $10 for not having his registration certificate with him.

200 P. C. PROFIT BY LAWRENCE ICE MEN

sistant Attorney-General Gutterman to institute the "cash and carry" system of distribution and to charge at the rate of only $12 a ton, instead of $25, as at present.

"CASH AND CARRY" PLAN.

The "cash and carry" system, with its reduction in prices, will be in effect within a week. Meantime the commission will continue its hearings, and it is on way affected by the voluntary reduction of the dealers.

This will mean ice at sixty cents per hundred pounds, instead of $1.25 a hundred which has been the minimum heretofore. Lawrence has never had a "cash and carry" system, which has enabled people of neighboring cities to get ice at more reasonable rates.

The icemen also agreed to furnish free ice to the very poor during the hot weather, from lots to be submitted by the overseer of the poor.

The first session of the new State commission was attended by hundreds of consumers, who thronged City Hall to listen to the testimony regarding profiteering.

Mayor Charles H. Adams of Melrose presided in the absence of Chairman John H. Sherburne.

GUESS AT WEIGHT.

The testimony given includes charges that there was no competition in Lawrence, that this explained the lack of proportion here and in Lowell, and that sick persons were denied ice because they lived so far from certain routes that the companies found it unprofitable to make deliveries.

Mrs. Ida C. Black, one of the witnesses, said that her bill for June and July was $11.25, although it was only $9 for the entire Summer of 1918 and $5.75 in 1917, when she used proportionately as much ice.

This witness declared that Lawrence icemen do not weigh ice unless they are compelled to do so by the protests of their customers, merely "guessing" at the amount.

WOMAN SWINDLED BY "SUGAR" SALESMAN

Mrs. Ida Kaplan, who owns a store at No. 91 Chestnut street, Chelsea, reported to the police today that a man called on her and offered to sell her two pounds of sugar for $1.60. She sent a boy, Harold Helman of No. 91 Chestnut street, with a $20 bill to pay for the sugar. She said the boy told her he was met at the corner of Williams street and Broadway by the man, who took the money away from him, and gave him no change. Furthermore Mrs. Kaplan claims she did not receive her sugar. The police are looking for the man, who is described as of dark complexion, 5 feet 6 inches tall, wearing dark clothes and a dark golf cap.

DR. JOHN H. SHERMAN'S BODY IS CREMATED

Dr. John H. Sherman, eighty-nine, one of the best-known physicians in South Boston, was buried today from the home of his daughter, Elizabeth Sherman, of No. 534 East Broadway. The Rev. James Hyde came from Richfield Springs, N. Y., to officiate. He is pastor emeritus of the Hawes Unitarian Church of South Boston, of which the doctor had been a member for many years. Only immediate relatives attended. The body was cremated at Forest Hills and the ashes sent for burial in the family lot at Nantucket.

ASPHALT COSTS CITY THIRD MORE THIS YEAR

Asphalt paving costs Boston one-third more this year than last. This was indicated today when a contract was let to the Central Construction Company to provide 35,000 yards of asphalt for repair work. The successful bid was $85.10, which was lower by several thousands than the only other bid.

APPEAL IS MADE TO NEW HAMPSHIRE MILITIA TO AID IN MAN HUNT

POSSE IS ELUDED BY OUTLAW

Alarm Spreads as Armed Mountaineer Defies Hundreds of Pursuers

Wolfboro, N. H., Aug. 5.—With the whole countryside alarmed by the proximity of a desperate bandit who has threatened to die fighting if he is cornered, the State was asked today to employ an entire regiment of militia in the search for John Abbott, the Intervale mountaineer, who fled into the woods around Wolfboro while facing arrest for wholesale robberies.

Armed to the teeth, and with a plentiful supply of ammunition, Abbott has the advantage of knowing intimately every foot of ground in the mountains in which he has sought safety.

While it is believed that with his knowledge of woodcraft he could remain uncaptured indefinitely, Summer residents and others contemplate leaving the town in the fear that Abbott will come out of hiding and make a desperate break for liberty.

Carroll County Solicitor William J. Britton today asked Governor Bartlett to order out the militia in the search for Abbott. The Governor ordered Attorney-General Oscar Young to furnish such aid as he thought was required.

Word that Abbott, more than six feet tall and a hunter and woodsman said to know every trail in the broad expanse of woods stretching between Intervale and Mt. Washington, is a fugitive from justice, spread like wildfire through the summer residents in and near the White Mountains.

Solicitor Britton received from several places information that Summer residents were alarmed and that failure to apprehend Abbott would cause a stampede on their part to get out of the district.

Solicitor Britton has already put a dozen detectives on the trail of Abbott at Intervale. Volunteers are also scrubbing roads throughout the White Mountain district to report sight of Abbott to the authorities.

The fugitive could live for months on game and berries obtained in the woods and on vegetables and food procured by night raids on isolated and farm houses. Abbott might make a raid on one place and by using his knowledge of forest trails, little-traveled roads and paths unknown except to a few hunters and guides, be miles away before officers could get there, it is pointed out.

Persons without a knowledge of the trails could never hope to follow him any distance before they would find the dense woods impassable, woodsmen say.

Abbott may be anywhere, the authorities believe, between Mount Conway and Mt. Washington, a distance of forty miles through woods, except where railroad tracks and highways have been cut, as thick as any in the entire section of the country.

Search by solicitor Britton and his assistants, of Abbott's home in Intervale today disclosed none of the $5000 worth of loot which, the authorities allege, he and two companions, who are already under arrest, took from Summer homes.

SOCIETY GIRL WAR NURSE WILL BE BURIED FRIDAY

CROSSES ARRIVE FOR PELLETIER TO WAGE WAR ON PICKPOCKETS

Sends Word From Buffalo to Take Drastic Measures Against Thieves

District-Attorney Pelletier intends to wage another crusade against pickpockets and professional thieves who are actively working in this city.

He sent word to his office today from Buffalo to have all cases of that class presented to the Grand Jury this week with a view to have the prosecution on indictments rather than lower court complaints so that Stiff prison sentences can be imposed.

He sent word also that all the cases should be set down for trial immediately.

Instead of spending the Summer months only cases where the defendants are in jail in default of bail are going to be tried, all the bail cases being put off till October.

Last Summer the court sat owing to the vice crusade waged by the District Attorney in co-operation with the War Department and Mr Pelletier says he will ask the court to sit the entire month and in September if necessary to clean up the pickpocket cases.

Some time ago he waged a relentless war on the pickpockets and the heavy sentences imposed had the effect of ridding the city of them.

The District Attorney will ask for heavy bail in all pickpocket cases. Most of the professional thieves hire professional bail and the District Attorney will try to put an end to their securing it.

Mr. Pelletier is attending the Knights of Columbus convention in Buffalo.

"HARD STUFF" SOLD AT PAWTUCKET BARS

Attleboro, Aug. 5.—That whiskey and rum are sold in Pawtucket saloons was the assertion made in the district court today by Dominick Lanni, arraigned on the charge of drunkenness.

Frank C. St. Germain, who spent Saturday in the Rhode Island city came over the line and boosted. He fully attempted to whip Patrolman Albert E. Sears. He informed the court that after several drinks of a per cent. beer he bought two drinks of whiskey.

Another defendant said he paid $2 for half a pint of rum.

100 FIREMEN STRIKE IN LOWELL MILLS

Lowell, Aug. 5.—A strike has been started by more than 100 of the 400 stationary firemen employed in the local mills and factories. They demand a 48-hour week and a wage schedule of 62½ cents an hour for firemen, 60 cents an hour for helpers and 50 cents for coal passers. The men claim they were working from 66 to 84 hours a week, in many instances, and receiving from $12 to $15 a day, at a wage that averaged from 35 to 38 cents.

You lovers of Lady Nicotine know that it is to smile a failing out among the forces of "uplift" of this State and nation that you owe continued enjoyment of your morning "coffin nail," your after-dinner cigar, your evening pipe.

Signs are not wanting that an anti-tobacco crusade is delayed in Massachusetts only because of this split in sentiment.

Nor are signs wanting that in a measure these forces are dividing on sex lines, the women of the W. C. T. U. standing for, and the men of the Anti-Saloon League against, the suggested campaign.

COMPROMISE OFFER IN R. I. CAR STRIKE

Providence, Aug. 5.—A compromise offer from city officials to the striking carmen to return to work at 55½ cents an hour and a nine-hour day is the latest plan for ending the trolley strike, according to information today. The union has been holding out for 60 cents an hour and an eight-hour day. The receivers of the Rhode Island Company offered 55 cents an hour and a nine-hour day.

A long conference took place between union officials on one side and the receivers on the other, with a committee of leading merchants and manufacturers during that some agreement be reached that would allow immediate resumption of car service.

It is understood that the union representatives made emphatic argument for a 60-cent and eight-hour schedule. The receivers replied that this was financially impossible, that the road could not earn enough to pay 60 cents an hour without a greatly increased fare, and that even the present 5-cent fare would mean increase in fares.

Under the present zone-fare system the fare averages three cents per mile. The first zone gives a five-cent ride in the central part of the city through a two-cent limit, and a three-cent fare, the receivers explained, is charged for a ride of one and one-fourth miles. This would mean an increase for thousands of car riders. Applied to the shorter radius of one and one-fourth miles.

The receivers, according to reports from the conference, protested that it was impossible for them to meet the demands that, in the receivers' opinion, would mean the wrecking of the road's finances.

The conference ended without specific agreement. But it was understood today that a compromise offer would come from the union side of 59 cents an hour and a nine-hour day. This would be splitting the difference on the hourly wage and waiving the eight-hour day.

DIVORCE SUITS FILED AT EAST CAMBRIDGE

In her suit for divorce filed at East Cambridge today, Mrs. Charlotte H. Swain of Medford charges her husband, Clarence H. Swain of Melrose, with habitual cruelty and neglect. Desertion. They were married August 13, 1917. She wishes to resume her maiden name, Charlotte H. Hurd.

Earl R. Sands of Somerville asks a divorce from Myrtle A. Sands of Medford, alleging desertion, and Mrs. Mary E. Poor of Somerville, alleging cruel treatment, desertion, wants a divorce from Manley Poor of Boothbay Harbor, Me.

ALLEGE INCOME OF $1,000,000 IS MISSPENT

Brattleboro Women Complain About Use of Thompson Estate Fund

[illegible] Aug. 5.—Charges that [illegible] of a $1,000,000 trust fund, broken [illegible] of the will of Thompson, [illegible] of Vermont and [illegible] Vermont, [illegible]

It is [illegible] by means for the benefit of poor [illegible] girls and women, have [illegible] right to divert part of the income to purposes other than the testator designated?

These are two of the questions Judge Frederick of the Supreme Court has been asked to answer by Richard M. Bradley and John F. Morse, trustees of the estate of the late Thomas Thompson, a resident of Cedar street, after [illegible] of the trust by trustees.

Mr. Thompson died March 24, 1869. He left the residue of his estate to his wife, Elizabeth, during her life. After her death, July 26, 1899, the estate was increased to more than $1,000,000.

SPLIT ON PURPOSES.

Mr. Thompson directed that the income from the trust fund be used to aid grammar schools in Vermont and shop girls of Brattleboro, Vt., and Rhinebeck, N. Y., and for "kindred" purposes. Recently the Brattleboro women organized the Society of Thompson Kindred Purposes of Shop Girls, claim they and a class in Rhinebeck are entitled to the entire income, and that Bates has failed to [illegible] Mr. Morse, who takes the [illegible] of the funds for [illegible] claim that Mr. Bradley, who disagrees, the money was [illegible] and should be [illegible] to expend [illegible] system in Milwaukee, Buffalo and other places, [illegible] says he has [illegible] to [illegible] directed" purposes.

ALLEGE PEOPLE ARE LAX.

The trustees say the existence of the fund has to a certain degree had [illegible] unfortunate effect upon both Brattleboro and Rhinebeck, and that [illegible] people are indisposed to do their duty [illegible] because they are persuaded that because of this fund, such duty has ceased to exist.

Mr. Bradley [illegible] denies that the compulsory sports of Brattleboro schools [illegible] and says [illegible] demoralized by the existence of the fund, and say that the amount which has been [illegible] the political phase of the prohibition fight, are more [illegible] wars of the anti-tobacco issue. They [illegible] information today.

Many ardent prohibitionists are outspoken users of tobacco. The financial interests engaged in the manufacture and sale are bigger and [illegible] than the combined [illegible] and distilling interests were. All of which is not [illegible] the canny campaigners of the "drys."

TO FIGHT FOR "CHEWING"

In strong prohibition districts in the rural sections the use of tobacco is almost universal among men. Farmers [illegible] secure in the knowledge of hard cider in the cellar, voted prohibition, would be against at the thought of being deprived of their pipes or their "chaw tobacker."

One Anti-Saloon League official admitted that linking up tobacco and the liquor cause a reaction. In this reaction the reform element [illegible] might come all that it has gained from tremendous effort. If the men can stop it, the anti-tobacco movement will die an early death.

Message from Cardinal at Opening of Convention at Buffalo

Buffalo, N.Y., Aug. 5.—On the opening of the convention of the Knights of Columbus today, Supreme Knight James A. Flaherty received a message sent by Cardinal Gibbons, the spiritual adviser of the Knights of Columbus, who gave the knights their first emphatic test as an organization destined for publice service when, at the outbreak of hostilities, he earnestly entreated to the knights the task of raising a half-million dollars for the Catholic University of America. How well this was successfully achieved.

The knights have done a magnificent work, for which the hierarchy, the clergy and the people will be always most grateful, Cardinal Gibbons wired.

The convention opened in the new St. Joseph's Cathedral with a pontifical high mass, by Bishop William Turner of Buffalo, followed by a sermon by Bishop William J. Shahan, rector of the Catholic University of Washington, D. C.

From the Cathedral the Knights marched to their convention hall, where Archbishop Thomas Henson, chaplain officer of the United States Navy, was the speaker.

The entire delegations of seven states are here, the States being Massachusetts, Vermont, Maine, Iowa, Connecticut, California and Virginia. D. J. Gallagher, assistant district attorney of Boston, headed the Massachusetts delegation.

Assurance that they will attend the convention were received from Newton D. Baker, Secretary of War, and Frank C. D. Roosevelt, Assistant Secretary of the Navy, immediately after Supreme Knight Flaherty announced that the Knights of Columbus Employment Organization has placed more than seventy-five thousand returned soldiers in positions working in conjunction with the United States Employment Service.

Cardinal Gibbons' message to Supreme Knight Flaherty was as follows:

"I hope your convention will be characterized, as always, by a spirit of zeal for church and country, and by good feeling and harmony. The knights have done a magnificent work for which the hierarchy, the clergy and the people will be always most grateful. Begging God's blessing upon the labors of the convention, upon its offers and upon all knights, I am, dear Mr. Flaherty,

"Faithfully yours,
"J. CARD. GIBBONS."

SURPRISE MEETING IN "THE DARK STAR" MYSTERY

Marion Davies as Rue Carew, and Norman Kerry as Jim Neeland, in a scene of "The Dark Star." Rue, going to her home to get a leather bag containing documents important to the government, finds Neeland there before her, seeking the papers as an agent of France.

"THE DARK STAR," a thrilling romance in motion pictures, with Miss Marion Davies as the heroine, is the first of the Cosmopolitan productions and will soon be shown at all the leading Boston picture houses. It is released by the Famous Players Lasky Corporation as the Paramount-Artcraft special.

GRIEF-STRICKEN MOTHER SEEKS RUNAWAY BOY

Grieving over the unexplained absence of her fourteen-year-old son, Mrs. Simon Doucette of No. 5 Montrose street, Milton, refuses to eat, and is at the point of death. Physicians say only the return of the runaway can save her life, as she is in a dangerous stage of melancholia.

The cause of the trouble, Ralph Doucette, is deserting by his father as "all boy." He left his home Sunday, taking with him all his own money and two suits of clothes. He was afraid of being punished for some trivial misdemeanor.

Young Doucette is said to have had even more than once before the desire to run away from home, but he always came back himself.

"But he is a determined youngster. I hope he will return soon, before what suffering his exploit has caused."

The police in this and other cities are on the lookout for Ralph. He is four feet eleven inches in height, dark complexioned and has a dark curly hair. When he left home he wore his "old clothes" under a new suit and had about $5.

BELIEVE END OF FISH STRIKE IS NEAR

It is generally believed in fishing circles that the Boston fishing fleet will resume work the end of this week, and that by the first of next week a normal supply of fish will be landed here at normal prices. A conference to be held at the Federal Building Thursday under the direction of the U. S. Department of Labor is expected to achieve this result.

Meantime the Italian fleet continues to come to port daily, although the catch is small. However, big shipments are coming in by rail and by steamers from other ports from Eastport, Me., to Block Island, and this caused wholesale prices to drop today. Haddock was selling at 11 cents a pound, wholesale, and cod from 10 to 12 cents.

The Fishermen's Union held a meeting today at which strike benefits were voted, and the officers took the sentiment of the members in regard to action at next Thursday's meeting.

Considerable comment was caused along the waterfront by the fact that the Bay State Fishing Company, owner of the steam trawlers and the largest fish producers, are apparently making preparations to send their fleet out. Hitherto no sea at once one of the boats having coaled at the company's yards at the foot of New street, East Boston.

BRITISH HEIR TO THRONE OFF FOR AMERICA

Prince Now Speeding Overseas Aboard the Battleship Renown

By International News Service.

London, Aug. 5.—The Prince of Wales, heir to the British throne, departed for America today. An elaborate series of royal decorations marked the departure of the Prince from the Victoria railroad station.

It was a regular old-fashioned hand-waving. The Prince, dressed in the uniform of a captain of the Royal Navy, was the first to arrive at the station, the royal family following a little later. Queen Mary affectionately kissed her son good-by, while King George and the brothers shook hands, wishing the Prince a happy voyage.

While waiting for the special train to make ready for leaving, the Prince stood upon the platform talking to the royal family and the score of staff officers who were present. At the last minute an attendant pushed up with all of the morning news papers and thrust them into the Prince's hands.

The Prince of Wales boarded the train at the last minute, waving farewell while the crowd of 300 persons who had gathered around the station cheered. The train was made up of four cars to carry the Prince's party and their baggage.

The voyage across the Atlantic will be made on the British battleship Renown. Upon arrival in Canada the royal party will make a tour across the country, later going to Washington and New York.

Word of the American government, America's cordial welcome for the people have been making every possible effort to have the Prince attend private social functions in New York and perhaps visit Newport, but so far as known he will adhere strictly to the official program, living on board the Renown while in New York.

HEAT PROSTRATES BOSTON POLICEMAN

Patrolman David J. Redmond of the Back Bay police station was overcome by the heat while doing crossing duty at Commonwealth avenue and Charlesgate West.

Cupid Was at Wheel Of Missing Auto; Owner Relents

New York, Aug. 5.—When William E. Reed, restaurant, entered court a complainant against his chauffeur who had appropriated his machine, it was plainly indicated. He little expected that within ten minutes his action would be entirely changed and that his chauffeur, Bernard Leonard, a veteran of the old Sixty-ninth, would be a smiling bridegroom.

Leonara had, in his employer's absence, driven to Connecticut with his fiancee, Miss Helen Gibson, in search of the clergyman who would marry them.

When Reed heard the story he asked that the charge be withdrawn and the request was granted. The party then left for the municipal building to get the license.

MILLIONS LOST IN FIRE ON U. S. STEAMSHIP

City of Dallas, Loaded to Leave for America Today, Ablaze at Genoa, Italy

Exclusive Cable to the International News Service from Il Secolo of Milan.

Genoa, Aug. 5.—Several millions of dollars damage was done on board the steamship City of Dallas when fire broke out on board her today just as she was preparing to sail for Norfolk, Va.

The city of Dallas is a small ship displacing only about 1,472 tons. She sailed from New York for Italy on April 26 and was last reported as arriving at Genoa June 3.

POLICEMEN WHO QUIT PUT BACK ON FORCE

Commissioner Curtis ordered the reinstatement of four policemen who had resigned from the force voluntarily and added two men to the force from the new list. The commissioner also issued an order allowing patrolmen to go out of town on their day off, provided they secure the permission of the captain in their district.

The men reinstated to the force are: Robert J. Ellery, Morris C. Finch, Charles J. Grignoli and John J. Lyons. The men appointed from the new list are William F. O'Malley and Gerald J. Thompson, both assigned to the Back Bay station.

ASK ONE CENT FARE FOR SPANISH VETERANS

Washington, Aug. 5.—A request that the United Spanish War Veterans be granted one cent a mile railroad rates to and from their convention this year in San Francisco, was made to President Wilson by Senator Phelan of California. The President also was asked to grant Federal employes who are members of the organization leave of absence with pay.

3,500,000 Gallons of Whiskey Worry Indiana Owners

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 5.—Neither the government nor the owners know what to do with 3,500,000 gallons of whiskey stored in four Indiana cities. Presence of this large amount of liquor was made known by Peter J. Kuyer, collector to internal revenue for the new consolidated sixth district.

The government is compelled to employ watchmen over the whiskey and the distilleries must maintain an inspection and police staff.

The owners are barred by law from removing the booze to states where its possession is not made illegal by prohibition, and if such was they must pay revenue on the amount lost, which is considered released from bond.

SAYS AMERICAN SYMPATHY IS WITH IRISH

De Valera Hopes to Win Recognition of United States Government

New York, Aug. 5—"I am convinced that the great majority of the American people are entirely in sympathy with the demands of the Irish people, to have their right to choose their own government recognized," said Eamon De Valera, President of the Irish Republic, here.

"My first step is to show in a way that cannot fail to be convincing through public demonstrations that this sympathy actually exists," he said. "When that is done I believe the American people will want to give practical effect to their sympathetic feeling. The opportunity is given them by our claim for the recognition of the republic.

"In recognizing the republic the American people will be doing nothing more than upholding traditional American principles, and in particular the principles for which she went to war. If the American government leads the way in recognizing the right of the Irish nation other governments will rapidly follow. The recognition of the Irish Republic means a free Ireland and a free Ireland means the triumph of a great principle, the acceptance of which will be a surer guarantee of peace than any artificial treaties or covenants can be."

"BUDDIES" COMING TO PARK SQUARE THEATRE

Seats for the Boston engagement of "Buddies," the new comedy written by George V. Hobart, which The Shuberts will offer as the theatrical attraction for the Park Square Theatre, went on sale this morning. The piece opens at this popular playhouse next Tuesday evening, August 12, with Donald Brian, Peggy Wood and Wallace Eddinger as co-stars.

Trolley Victim Dies

New Bedford, Aug. 5—Antonio Sol, fifty, of No. 483 Belleville avenue, is dead at St. Luke's Hospital, where he was taken after he was struck by a street car Sunday night. His skull was fractured.

Plays That Remain

TREMONT THEATRE—Henry W. Savage's new musical comedy, "See-Saw," began its first full week at the Tremont Theatre last evening. Its opening performance last Saturday night was a gala occasion recalling many another attraction from the managerial source of Mr. Savage which had like openings at the same theatre and with sensational runs following. This production preserves the high reputation of its producer and in liveliness of action, tunefulness of music, sprightliness of dancing, colorfulness of costuming and scenery, youth and beauty of chorus and above all, cleverness of principals "See-Saw" appears destined to enjoy the greatest success.

WILBUR THEATRE — "Oh, My Dear," the sixth New York Princess Theatre musical comedy, now playing to capacity business at the Wilbur Theatre where it started its third week last night, has turned out the most successful of all the "oh" shows presented in Boston by F. Ray Comstock and William Elliott.

MAJESTIC THEATRE—Robert Hichens' drama of social problems "Damaged Goods," is in its second week, as a screen play, at the Majestic Theatre. Two showings of this amazing film production are given daily. Richard Bennett, Fenno Morrison, and the rest of the original cast of the spoken version appear in the photoplay.

PLYMOUTH THEATRE—"Havana" delightfully tuneful, pleasingly witty, unrestrainedly funny and elaborately staged, will be presented at the Plymouth Theatre for the rest of this week by Carl Hunt's fine company. Dorothy Maynard, John Norton, Al Roberts, Irving Beebe, Flavia Arcaro and Dorothy Quinnette have the chief parts, and there is a big and beautiful chorus. Next week this excellent organization will present "Adele."

TREMONT TEMPLE—Comfortably ensconced in their new quarters at Tremont Temple, Mary Pickford and "Daddy Long Legs" continue to delight hundreds twice daily. "Daddy Long Legs" is a photoplay of supreme excellence. Miss Pickford has never been seen to better advantage or in a more pleasing production than this, with its appeal to the funnybones and the heartstrings of young and old.

Pemberton Inn

It is never dull at Pemberton Inn, the South shore dining place de luxe, with its varied attractions, including seaplaning high and far over Hostin harbor in a Curtiss "F" plane, cabaret dancing at the Inn, and bathing in the fine salt water, open air swimming pool.

KEITH'S OFFERS BILL FULL OF GOOD ACTS

Pantomime Dance by Stone and Kaliz One of the Features

A series of rattling good acts are included in an unusually well-balanced Summertime show at Keith's this week. Almost any of the acts might fill in as a headliner, although the honor position is held by Amelia Stone and Arman Kaliz in "A Song Romance" by Edgar Allen Woolf and Mr. Kaliz. Paul Parnell is the accompanist.

This act presents a series of artistic songs accompanied by clever pantomime dancing on the part of both Miss Stone and Mr. Kaliz. The act was beautifully staged and was well received.

FURNISH PLENTY OF FUN.

Billy Montgomery and Minnie Allen occupied the position immediately following Miss Stone and Mr. Kaliz and furnished a scream of laughs. Their act was entitled "Tom Foolery" and was all that the name implies. As a rough, rollicking, Monday morning act of the best ever seen here and the act was a success from start to finish.

Craig Campbell, a tenor from the Opera Comique, New York, pays his annual visit to Keith's this week and got a very good reception. He sang several operatic and concert numbers in a pleasing voice.

George Robbe and Eddie Nelson in a comedy skit "A Girl," an act which came earlier on the bill, was a tremendous hit. Robbe stopped the show when he sang Al Jolson's "A Jazz Melody" in a style somewhat bordering on Jolson's. He was obliged to repeat the chorus before the audience, which was in particularly receptive mood, would allow the act to continue.

SHOW CLEVER DANCES.

Another act deserving of special mention was that of Bradley and Ardine, in "Follies of Song and Dance." The act showed some of the best dancing seen on the city this season.

Other acts on the bill were: Jim, the "Jazz King," a well-trained dancing bear; Lew Hawkins, billed "The Chesterfield of Minstrelsy"; Beatrice Morgen & Co. with John Conroy in a one-act playlet, "Moonlight Madness," and Roland Travers, a magician.

Other Theatres

LOEW'S ORPHEUM—A clever musical comedy in miniature, ingeniously contrived in plot and outfitted with sprightly music and colorful dressing in scenes and costumes, headed the vaudeville bill shown yesterday at the Orpheum Theatre. It's title is "Summer Girls and Fall Guys," and it is played by a company of ten people headed by Cliff Dixon and William Barrows. Others on the bill included Fashions de Vogue in a novel offering; Martin and Courtney, in a travesty skit; Dave Harris, in new songs; Millard and Doyle, in their comedy skit, "From Broadway to the Bowery," and the Aerial Belmonts in daring feats in mid-air.

COLUMBIA THEATRE—A splendid bill of photoplays was presented yesterday at the Columbia Theatre. Today's program includes Theda Bara in "The Silent Song," and May Allison in "Castles in the Air." For the rest of the week there will be shown Norma Talmadge in "The Way of a Woman," Dorothy Dalton in "Other Men's Wives," Montague Love in "A Broadway Saint," Corinne Griffith in "A Girl at Bay," Priscilla Dean in "Pretty Smooth," and Harry Morey in "Beauty Proof."

MODERN AND BEACON THEATRES—The Far West in different periods of its history is the locale in which are placed the two first-run photoplays shown today at the Modern and Beacon Theatres. William S. Hart appeared in the pictured story of the older days, "Wagon Tracks," which treats of the old Santa Fe Trail time when the fleets of prairie schooners traversed that track and braved the dangers of Indian attacks and other no less serious troubles in order to reach that land of gold, fruit and promise. Mr. Hart portrays the character of a plains scout, one of those brave leaders who piloted the wagon trains and had the travelers in their keeping.

GLOBE THEATRE—Two new photoplays of opposing themes are offered at the Globe this week. Ethel Clayton made a wife known in "The Way of Woman," as a young woman of the Southern aristocracy who marries a man for his wealth, her family being poor. The sacrifice she makes grows larger as she realizes the character of her husband, a boozifier who, when he dies soon after, leaves her penniless and in debt. She borrows money from another man, which brings fresh complications from which she emerges after a thrilling trial.

BOSTON THEATRE—Mitchell Lewis, in "Jacques of the Silver North," the feature film at the Boston Theatre this week, is a story of the great Northwest. It is full of thrilling adventure and bears out Rex Beach as one of the best on the screen. The vaudeville bill is exceptionally good.

At the Parks

PARAGON PARK—Thousands are daily availing themselves of the fast fleeting opportunities to see Lieutenant Mark C. Hoag, D. S. C., and his fellow fliers perform the blood tingling battles in the air and do the other stunts which have got all New England talking. No one should miss the panorama of sea from the moving airplane, or the thrilling night raids on Paragon Park. And in between times there are 101 other forms of entertainment awaiting visitors to the park.

NORUMBEGA PARK—"Hit-the-Trail Holliday" one of George M. Cohen's most amusing comedies, is being presented twice daily by the Liberty Players at Norumbega Park this week. There is no abatement in the popularity of the picnic grounds, athletic fields, cabaret and motor boating on the Charles River, dancing in

It Behooves Us to Speed and Not Stint Justice to Veterans

The most pitiable sight in the United States today is the soldier or sailor who in the supreme hazard of war has served his country bravely and well, has come home full of joyous anticipation of a grateful welcome, has been met at the dock with cheers, paraded amidst acclaim, given a half hour of dazzling glory and then left stranded, penniless, hungry, jobless—forgotten.

Six Months' Pay for Returned Soldier Is Demanded

The American citizen who contrasts what his rich country h... done for the returned soldier with what Australia has done wi... find it hard to repress a blush of shame.

Begin with the matter of service pay. We paid each privat... soldier $30 a month and each corporal $36. Australia paid $43.5... and $72.90 respectively.

In allowances for dependents and in insurance against w... hazards, the two countries are about on a par.

It is in the provision made for the unharmed soldier after ... return that Australia puts us in the shadow.

We give him $60 and a ticket home—not enough to buy th... new clothing he will need in civil life. Then we leave him to fin... a job if he can. With the result that throughout our country ... thousands of returned soldiers are still idle and penniless.

Petition to the Secretary of War to Send Soldiers Home With Six Months' Pay

Sign this petition, get your friends to sign it, and forward it to the Boston American, 60 Summer Street, Boston, Mass.

To the Honorable Newton D. Baker, Secretary of War:

The undersigned respectfully urge you to return to their homes as soon as possible the soldiers who have accomplished so brilliantly every object America had in the war.

We urge, also, that you obtain the necessary authority to pay these men their military wages for six months, or for some sufficient period after their discharge from the army until they can obtain useful and remunerative employment.

We urge this as an act of simple justice by a great nation to its heroes.

Six months' Bonus Plan Meeting Favor All Over New England

Nearly 350,000 persons have signed the Boston American's petition for six months' pay for soldiers, sailors and marines. With hundreds more coming from all over New England every day, the 200,000 mark will be reached daily as in the past. Thousands of workers are still busy in all sections of Boston and vicinity, and the returns from the rural districts will swell the total to enormous proportions. Many of the petitions are being received from soldiers themselves, who are signing the petitions in the hospitals. ...

RUMANS ASKED TO RETIRE FROM BUDAPEST

Allies to Exert Economic Pressure If Council's Order Is Not Obeyed

By International News Service.

Paris, Aug. 5—Hungarian troops that occupied the suburbs of Budapest were today asked to withdraw by the peace conference.

In the event the Rumanians refuse, it is understood that the allies are prepared to take economic measures at once to compel fulfillment of their request.

General Gharagnes of the United States Army, was today appointed a member of an inter-allied mission which has been ordered to proceed into Budapest.

The mission is under orders to disarm the Hungarians, and to report to the peace conference on the stability of the new Serbian government that succeeded the Bela Kun regime.

In the meantime the blockade of Hungary will be lifted temporarily to allow the importation of food, in hope that this will ameliorate conditions.

HEALTH BOARD CREATES FIVE NEW BERTHS

With salaries aggregating $7100 five new positions have been created in the Boston board of health. The positions deal with child hygiene, social hygiene and health educational work. They are: Deputy commissioner in charge of the child hygiene division at $1,500 per year, director of health educational service at $2000, statistical clerk at $1,500; investigator, social hygiene service, $1,200, and clerk at $1,200.

TOO MUCH RUBBISH SAY ARLINGTON DEALERS

The business men of Arlington Centre demand a weekly collection of rubbish. The board of Public Works announced earlier in the year, that owing to limited funds the collection of rubbish and garbage would be made monthly instead of weekly during the summer.

SOLDIERS SERVICE BUREAU

The American and other Boston newspapers are daily devoting space for the use of soldiers and sailors of the great war and those still in service, their relatives and friends, to find out concrete matters pertaining to service affairs.

If you have any question regarding location of loved ones in the service of homeless, service insurance or like matters, send your query to the Soldiers' Service Bureau, No. 30 Huntington avenue, Boston, Mass., and the required information will be given in this column.

FALLS TO DEATH WITH BABY IN HIS ARMS

Ex-Soldier Killed in 3-Story Plunge, but Infant Escapes Without Injury

Lawrence, Aug. 5—While John Galanas, lately returned from overseas, was fondling his little niece, Grace Hicks, one year old, on the piazza of his home at No. 97 Lowell street, he lost his balance and toppled backward over a railing, striking the pavement three stories below, on his head.

The baby, shielded by her uncle's arms from the full force of the fall, rolled several feet away, uninjured, but Galanas was so severely injured that he died in the Lawrence General Hospital an hour afterward.

Galanas, who was thirty years old, was a member of H Company, 54th Regiment, Coast Artillery Corps, when he was discharged from the army. He was very fond of his little niece, who was born while he was in the service, and it was his custom to play with her on the veranda every day when he returned from his work.

He was a native of Chelsea and lived there until several years ago. Four sisters survive him.

AIRPLANE FALLS INTO BAY AT HULL

Aviator Smith Unhurt, Swims Ashore After Freeing Himself from Wreckage

While hundreds of Summer residents looked on in horror, the pilot and airplane, participating in daily air battles at Nantasket Beach, became uncontrollable, and fell with its propeller whirling, from a height of 200 feet, crashing into the waters of Hull Bay, off Kenberma.

The machine was wrecked and to the onlookers it seemed as though the aviator himself must have met instant death. What was their surprise to see him a few seconds later emerge from beneath the wreckage of the plane and swim ashore unassisted, suffering only from a scratch over the eye.

About a week ago Smith fell into the sea off Nantasket Beach from a height of 1,000 feet and at that time also escaped with slight injury.

Smith had ascended into the air from the lake off at Kenberma when suddenly the machine turned and started a nose dive toward the water. The aviator's attempts to volplane were unsuccessful and the machine fell with a jolt of water with terrific force.

VICTORY RIBBON BARS READY FOR VETS

To Be Issued This Month to All Who Served in Army During War

The army recruiting station, No. 7 Tremont Row, has received a memorandum from the War Department stating that the official Victory Ribbon Bars, which will be given to all officers and soldiers who served in the army of the United States during the war with Germany, will be ready for issue the middle of this month.

It is expected that the Victory Medal will be ready for distribution in a few months.

Conscientious objectors who refused to put on a uniform, will not receive the ribbon or the medal, nor men who were called by the local boards, but rejected at camp before entering on regular duties thereat.

Major P. H. Shaw, chief of the recruiting station, has received a communication from the War Department, together with a Croix de Guerre for presentation to Markhim W. Stackpole, No. 169 Main street, Andover, Mass., who was chaplain of the 102d F. A., with the following citation:

"As chaplain of the 102 F. A., 26th Division, he contributed to the maintenance of very high morale among the troops which he accompanied."

Aged Dentist Dying After Operating On Himself

Binghamton, N. Y., Aug. 5.—An operation, self-performed, upon Dr. Albert D. Turner, eighty, a dentist, and one of Binghamton's wealthiest citizens, will probably cause the aged man's death, according to the police, who found Dr. Turner alone in his apartment. Apparently he had been suffering agonies for days without power to summon assistance.

Friends called several times but finding their ringings unanswered retired without knowing the aged dentist was within and suffering acutely without strength to relieve his pain or admit those who could.

The police finally broke into the apartment when warned of Dr. Turner's non-appearance. They dashed a light through a window and discovered him lying on the floor.

The President
The Senate and
The People of the United States

A few weeks ago the President was the center of the stage. Today the scene has shifted and all eyes are upon the Senate. But now, as the decision is about to be made, it is well to recall that the initial and the ultimate power resides in the People of the United States.

And the People of the United States do not want the Covenant of the League of Nations!

For Instance:

Impartial, upstanding Americans are abroad. Others have just returned. They are telling of conditions as conditions exist; of the cold, raw facts as seen by unbiased eyes.

James M. Tuohy, a veteran pressman and correspondent of the highest standing, is in Dublin writing for a New York daily. He finds that the attitude of the British Government to Ireland is that of a conqueror toward a subject race.

Frank P. Walsh, who was joint Chairman of President Wilson's War Labor Board; Michael J. Ryan, former Public Service Commissioner of Pennsylvania; and Edward F. Dunne, former Governor of Illinois, have made public a report of present-day atrocities in Ireland, and have been denied by the Peace Conference the right of even a hearing for the duly elected representatives of the Irish people, designated by the men and women of Ireland to present Ireland's case before that Conference.

Yet the proposed League of Nations, through Article 10, would make the United States of America a guarantor of that empire which seeks to hold Ireland in subjection through military force and which thus offends the sense of justice of the civilized world.

This is one of the outstanding reasons why the people of the United States are against the proposed League of Nations, and if the citizens but inform their Senators, the will of the people must prevail.

YANK OWNERS FIRE FIRST SHOT IN BIG BASEBALL WAR

By W. S. FARNSWORTH.

New York, Aug. 5.—The New York American League baseball club has fired the first shot in the war with Ban Johnson. Attorneys prepared papers asking the court to issue a temporary injunction restraining boisterous Ban Johnson, president of the league, from interfering with the running of the Yankees' affairs.

It is not known whether the club officials or Pitcher Carl Mays himself will ask for the injunction. But whichever way it is it will be a fine old mess and Boisterous Ban is going to have the greatest scrap on his hands he has enjoyed since he organized the league.

When the court issues the restraining order was a hour that the owners of the club will appear and "accept" the fifteen New York newspapermen were yesterday in "handing" Boisterous Ban.

From early morn until press time last night the scribes dodged and to bring the pudgy president out of his hiding place, but didn't succeed. He is stopping at the Holland House, but all inquiries for him brought the same answer:

"Mr. Johnson is not in."

This is not the first time Boisterous Ban has taken to cover. For fifteen years the writer has never known Johnson to be anywhere in hiding when he was wanted for an interview when there was regarding the league was the matter.

COLONEL HUSTON ON JOB.

But the opposition didn't try to sneak away from the scribes. Colonel Huston, who with Captain Ruppert, owns the Yankees, was at his desk as usual, and gave out the following peppery statement in regard to the row:

"The trouble is fundamental. We believe the president of the American League is interested in the Cleveland club. We are not going to attempt to prove this, but that is our belief, and we believe it is the conviction of every owner in the American League. Until this corbuncle is removed there can be no health in the league.

"The writer, however, believes that sooner or later the New York club will be called upon to prove whether or not Johnson owns stock in the Cleveland club.

"It long has been alleged that Johnson has filled his board of directors with men who would not hold the position he occupies if Johnson were not in control.

"When Ruppert and Huston called on President Ban Johnson Monday afternoon in the latter's office at the meeting in this city.

"He failed to officially notify the New York officials, and as he wouldn't see the newspapermen, we are not in position to tell our readers whether or not those will in such a contingency.

"Unofficial reports are that Johnson has announced that he will attend the meeting.

Colonel Huston declared that Johnson is interested in Ruppert, that he is jealous of the club owners that and his efforts to "get" Ruppert are the story that the latter was confident that he could "get" Johnson.

LIKE A "JACKED JURY."

But Colonel Huston would not stand for this. Johnson had informed them that no clubs had protested against Mays being traded. If so he is true, and there is no doubt of it, what a chance they would have with such a "packed jury."

Johnson would "has got in German," with the Yankees, the Colonel figures, written on June 21, that six clubs had protested against Mays being traded.

On July 5 Johnson wired the Detroit club that he had received no telephone call from the Yankees or the Red Sox.

Navin was in Detroit and Barrow in Boston, consequently the Boston manager was in touch all of the time with the Yankee owners.

Barrow replied that he would take Rhinke and Navin, Navin replied that he wouldn't give them a darn, but was willing to hand over a bunch of money and one of his second string players. This offer was refused by Barrow.

During the Red Sox last visit in Cleveland Barrow called Miller Huggins, manager of the Yankees, on the phone in St. Louis.

The Boston manager told the Yankee leader that the Colonel figured Pitchers Morton and Kiesfer and Outfielder Smith.

Clark Griffith, of the Senators, asked Barrow if he would be interested in Pitchers Shaw and Harper for Mays. Barrows naturally spurned this offer.

EVEN BROWNS DICKER.

During the Yankees' stop in St. Louis last month Bobby Quinn, business manager of the Browns, informed Huston and Ruppert that he would like to get Mays for the Brown club.

"But I haven't got a chance to get him," said Quinn. "There are only two clubs who have any chance of getting me, and I know Barrow is on the ground in Cleveland and New York hanging them up for more money to him.

Baltimore Buys Ruppert-Jones men, whose salaries are paid by the American League club owners, spent most of yesterday in their private room.

But the faithful watchdogs saw to it that no newspapermen got in touch with a speaking interest of the president.

As soon as the Mays trouble is finally settled the writer will point out the many other evils that exist and tell just what should be done and they have to do to make baseball clean.

It is the duty of every fan to help Johnson with some suggestions for remedies and to charles Comiskey, the White Sox owner.

Johnson will receive the letters and Comiskey will publish them.

Although the old Boston and Philadelphia National League clubs are for sale at present, the dailies to decide but the two finest pieces ever offered.

Time and again when Ban has been at loggerheads with Comiskey and was facing danger he never failed to hurry to Comiskey's fro-

Dunn Refuses to Comment Upon Huston's Charge

Chicago, Aug. 5.—President James Dunn of the Cleveland Club refused to comment on the charges made by Colonel Huston that President Ban Johnson of the American League was a stockholder. The Cleveland club, Johnson to be a stockholding company, and it was up to Johnson himself to state whether or not he had holdings in the club.

Frazee Failed in Duty in Not Suspending Carl Mays, Says Ban Johnson

New York, Aug. 5.—President Ban Johnson of the American League broke his silence long enough last night to issue a statement reviewing the Mays case and placing himself at the head of the organization and at least one of its members at seaside points. The statement follows, in part:

"So much has been said in the public prints of a misleading character about the case of Mays that it does it evident that something is going on behind the scenes which is not known to the baseball public. Mays left the club without permission while a game was in progress on July 1.

"Mays went to his hotel, packed his grip and boarded a train for Boston. Manager Barrow announced through the newspapers that he was through with the Red Sox and would go on a fishing trip. It was impossible for the Boston management to get in touch with Mays, as he kept the headquarters of its action. This was done.

"The Chicago, Cleveland and New York clubs opened negotiations for the release of Mays, but on learning protest from Washington, St. Louis and Detroit . . . Philadelphia joined in the protests."

The statement Johnson told of having notified Manager Barrow and Colonel Ruppert, explaining the situation.

"I heard nothing more from Colonel Ruppert and naturally supposed he had dropped all negotiations for Mays. When the announcement was made in the newspapers of July 21 that the Mays case had been referred to the New York club I was astonished. Insubordinate I suspended Mays indefinitely and wired both the New York and Boston clubs to that effect."

'Ty' Cobb Gains 2 Points in Race for Batting Prize

Although Ty Cobb did not play yesterday, he gained two points on George Sisler for the leadership in the American League batting race.

Austin McHenry, the young outfielder of the Cardinals, passed Z. Wheat in the National League. McHenry is now in fourth place, two points ahead of the Brooklyn outfielder.

How to Play Baseball

THIS is the sixty-third of a series of 100 articles by Hugh S. Fullerton, celebrated baseball expert, on "How to Play Baseball." In this lesson Mr. Fullerton continues to tell how to become a base runner. These articles will be a feature of the American's sport pages each day. Don't miss them.

Sliding is the art of finishing a steal, and sliding to second differs from the slide into third almost as much as the approach to first differs from that to second.

In modern baseball only two slides are recognized and the art of sliding has developed from the game. The old-time plunge with the head and the feet first slide, jump at the bag and a run away are fast going into disuse.

In the time of Kelly, Hamilton, Burns and other great base runners, the head-first slide was unknown. The runner would run full speed and at the proper moment fall flat on the ground and shoot his body forward, the impetus carrying him over the bag. Then he would scramble to his feet and run on. Sometimes he would overrun the bag and be caught between bases, but he was not often caught napping.

The reason for this was that by sliding head first the runner gains no momentum, and so would come to a standstill in a few feet. Besides, he has to rise to his feet before he can run, and in diving for the bag he must get his feet under him, and in the scramble to get up he is apt to be tagged.

In sliding never remove the eyes from the fielder who is covering the bag you are sliding to. The runner who takes his eyes off the baseman is sure to be caught napping. The baseman is coming and should be on the side where he can get the ball directly to the runner. It is better that he will not be coming directly to the runner, but it is better that he will not be coming directly to the runner, but it is better that he will not be coming directly to the runner, but it

REFEREE DEPRIVES LYNCH OF DESERVED VICTORY

By JACK CONWAY

Joe Lynch, holding New York featherweight championship title, was deprived of a well deserved victory in his twelve round bout with Johnny Kilbane at the Fenway A. A. in Brookline last night when Referee Jack Moran, acting on the advice of Kilbane's manager, Billy Gibson, stopped the fight in the eleventh round, declaring that Lynch was unable to continue.

Moran's decision was a most unpopular one with the fans, who had paid $4 and $5 to see the fight, and who were unanimous in the opinion that Lynch was not in any condition to quit. Lynch himself was the most surprised man in the ring when Moran declared the fight was over. Lynch had been knocked down in the eleventh round, but was on his feet at the count of nine, and was apparently ready to continue.

Lynch was the aggressor throughout the fight, and had Kilbane on the run most of the time. Kilbane's face was a mass of blood from the eighth round on, and he was unable to land a blow that had any steam behind it.

A Hint of the Autumn Fashions

Slender and straight is the fur coat for the Fall season. This gown of dark blue velour cloth is very smart. A little touch of light blue chiffon relieves the plainness at the neck line, while two bands of heavy embroidery encircle the skirt. Two folds give an unusual touch to the waistline.

Here is a smart hat of taupe beaver cloth. The crown is interwoven with velvet ribbon, and the very small brim is also of velvet. One of the very new creations shown for the coming Winter season when Milady may expect to see fur used extensively not only for the usual accessories but as trimmings for hats and gowns. The hat above gives an idea of the kind of trimming which will be employed to make the headgear of the fashionable woman strictly up-to-date.

The Rhyming Optimist

By Aline Michaelis.

TOMORROW is time's happy isle, a quiet and golden land where all youth have to do is smile and count your cash in hand. You'll never know a bit of care and never have a pain, there's always sunshine over there and never any rain. The man who of its praises sings says when this spot is won he'll do an awful lot of things he never yet has done. He will be kinder to his fellowmen and fairer to his foes, and he will try to make amends for every debt he owes. He then will put away all envy and all greed when falls tomorrow's shining ray within his little room. And he will wear a gayer heart and beam in sunland sing; he knows he'll play a braver part whatever life goes. And he will rest and hold the children on his knee when comes tomorrow's sunless gold across the land and sea. Tomorrow is time's happy isle and many people stray through life just waiting for its smile—but what about today? Tomorrow hearts that love us well may not be here to bless, tomorrow may be—who can tell?—too late for our caress. But one day only can we grasp from all of time's long way. The hour for friendship's eager clasp in here and now, today. The hour to hold the kiddies near and join their prattling play; the hour to clasp the loved ones dear lies only in today.

(Toilet Tip.)

A safe, certain method of removing the hair or fuzz from the skin of face, neck, arms or body is to mix some ordinary powdered delatone with enough water to form a paste, then rub off, wash the skin and the hairs are gone. This is perfectly harmless and seldom requires repeating, but to avoid disappointment it is advisable to see that you get genuine delatone.—Advertisement.

Price fluctuations in Boston were small at the opening and afterwards. Most active issues declined a point, but before the end of the first hour the tone was firmer and some of the issues were of less volume than yesterday. Copper were weak, but recessions in Calumet & Arizona and National Calumet & Arizona and Wolverine were the weakest of the group. Reductions of 2 points each in United Fruit and Utah Copper were also noted.

There were sales during the morning hour and tokens to number of almost included Utah Copper, United Fruit Products, Arcadian Consolidated Nevada, Woolworth Swift & Co., Fairbanks, Mitchell and Wolverine.

Among weakest issues in the second hour were Utah Copper, off 2 points at 87, U. S. Smelting, Mexican Investments, Seneca and North Butte. The Nix Daly was conspicuous at times during the forenoon. Rails were lower, Boston & Maine receding a point and New York Central a fraction.

STEEL COMMON SHOWS GAIN BY NOON

Excitement Marked Trading and Morning Sales Totaled Almost Million Shares

By W. H. ROSS.
Financial Editor.

Stocks were strong in New York at noon, but most of the morning's lower level. A number were showing gains around 1 to 2 points. They included Baldwin, steamship, Inspiration, Mexican Petroleum, Sinclair Oil, Republic Iron & Steel, Bethlehem B, Lackawanna Steel, Marine common and preferred, Midvale, Pittsburgh Coal and Utah Copper. New York Central was also active from the start and early trading was attended by excitement. The gains were not held in the first hour, however. By noon transactions totaled 400,000 shares and receded further to more than two points.

U. S. Steel was up ¾ at 102¾, shortly after 12 o'clock. It topped 103 at 1 o'clock.

The opening of the New York Stock Exchange was exciting and the scene was duplicated on the curb, the opposition could operate in an active market. Sales were at prices fixed by them at 8,000 shares at 102¾, to 1600, and 500 shares at 104, 1000 at 104¼ and 1000 at 104½ and from yesterday's close.

LIQUIDATION AT OPENING.

Liquidation continued at the opening, brokers receiving many orders to sell over night. But pressure was of less volume than at the close of the market yesterday and proved during the first hour less persistent than during the forenoon. Commission observers were of the opinion that weak holders had been shaken out of the market and that selling this morning as well as around Monday's close indicated that only scattered stocks remained for sale at the opening. The reaction was in general, as it was yesterday, not continued until near the end of the first hour, but with slackening pace. There were exemptions of a rather severe character, but the recovery was feeble. Later in the forenoon some issues were lower than yesterday's prices and others were still lower. But a few showed small gains and prices in these were brought already a higher level. The market was very active. First hour transactions totaled nearly 600,000 shares.

RAILROADS WERE WEAKEST.

Railroads were the weakest group at the outset, with Southern Pacific showing the largest loss. Wall Street had recovered to some degree from the early pessimistic publication of the demands of road employes, and in some quarters it was claimed that the proposed program could not possibly be put through. It is understood that the aims of employes were understood beforehand by railway executives and what happened at Washington was not wholly a surprise. What the expected must have been known to bankers and may account for the conservative attitude taken by many of them in regard to recent speculation. For a week or more before the break the market wavered at times and many orders slackened in volume. All this was premonitory of what took place yesterday and today. Bears are now at the bat. The main bull showing in times. It lasted five months.

GERMANY BUYS 1,000 TONS OF U. S. COPPER

Germany has brought 1,000 tons of electrolytic copper in this country through a Swiss corporation, it was learned today. The price being based upon the current New York quotation. It was shipped a week ago and is understood. Another inquiry for 10,000,000 pounds has been received in this country, the prospective buyers being German interests. How credits were obtained for the purchase already made is unknown.

Sales made so far this year by the Copper Export Association approximate 100,000,000 pounds, other sellers and producers have also found a foreign market for the red metal.

Alaska Packers Association declared quarterly dividend of $2 a share, payable August 30 to stock of record August 8.

BOSTON ELEVATED LOST HALF MILLION IN JUNE

Boston Elevated Railway Company operations for June resulted in a deficit of $535,236, compared with $224,062 in May and $212,000 in April. The June deficit was wholly due to inadequate fare which amounted to $2,261,000. The road spent a large amount for new cars and car repairs. It cost 19.06 cents per car mile to operate the system that month.

Figures that it cost 19.06 cents per car mile to transport each passenger and that 1 fare paid 5 cents, multiplied by the number of car miles in this month, would total $3,824,459.

EDITORIAL PAGE OF THE BOSTON AMERICAN AUGUST 5. 1919. BOSTON.

The Greatest Petition Ever Sent to the Congress Has a Meaning That Should Not Be Ignored

In one thing Senator Thomas of Colorado is right: to vote six months' pay to each honorably discharged soldier, sailor or marine who served our country in the great war would require a large sum of money—six hundred and twenty million dollars, the gentleman from Colorado reckons.

But it would be the PEOPLE'S money, Senator, and the 6,100,000 signatures to the petition filed at Washington on Saturday by the Hearst newspapers—incomparably the most impressive and commanding petition ever laid before the Congress of the United States—prove very conclusively that the people are willing it should be spent to make easier the transition of our returned heroes from the status of war to the tasks of peace.

It is, indeed, a large sum of money; but it would go to REWARD A LARGE SERVICE, Senator.

While in the last year of the war eighty-two representative American corporations were amassing in excess profits—above their peace-time average, after deduction of all taxation, including the Federal war tax on excess profits—more than the sum which this proposed grant of six months' service pay would involve, 300,000 American young fighting men were suffering death or wounds in behalf of their country, and more than ten times that number were undergoing hardship, peril and enforced removal from the comforts of home, that victory might crown America's efforts in battle.

We do not think that the spirit of loyalty or gratitude among the American people is so weak that it would cavil at the taxation required to pay the survivors among this unsurpassed fighting force the small per capita token of appreciation which the petition of the 6,100,000 citizens, through the enterprise of the Hearst newspapers, asks the Congress to authorize.

For the average enlisted man six months' pay would mean little more than a new outfit of civilian clothing and modest pocket money—about $80—with which to finance himself while getting settled in civil life.

As we pointed out the other day, Australia, whose 5,000,000 inhabitants sent nearly one in every ten to the war at a rate of service pay more than 40 per cent. higher than we paid our enlisted men, is preparing to give to each returned warrior all the land he needs, together with a loan of $2,750 at 3½ per cent.

Had we paid an army proportionately as large as the Australian army a service pay as great as the Australian fighters received and then provided as liberally as Australia is providing for the survivors our financial burden might be deserving of the complaint which the Senator from Colorado voices.

For then we should have had 10,000,000 men in arms, and our total war bill, instead of being $22,000,000,000, would have amounted to $100,000,000,000 or more.

To the valor of our fighting men we owe the conclusion of the war months earlier than the most optimistic of us had expected or planned.

By the resistless courage with which they drove ahead they saved for us MANY TIMES the cost of the proposed grant of six months' pay, to say nothing of the saving in invaluable lives.

Nothing within our power to grant can ever extinguish the debt of honor and gratitude we owe them.

The 6,100,000 citizens who signed the unprecedented petition circulated by the Hearst newspapers do not for an instant claim that the small additional recognition contemplated by that petition would constitute a discharge of the debt.

But it would at least lift the stigma which has fallen upon us by reason of the presence in almost every large American community of returned war veterans who, months after their honorable discharge, are still without employment and without the means of self-support.

That condition, Senator and citizen, we submit is a reproach upon the Nation's honor which the Congress cannot too speedily correct.

So long as a single war profiteer clings to money won during the Nation's time of stress, won by reason of the opportunities and the security afforded by what these fighting men did at peril of life, health and limb, the plea of cost is a plea of misplaced economy, if not of downright ingratitude, when raised to oppose the grant of six months' pay.

Senator Thomas errs when he describes as "dangerous" the policy recommended by the 6,100,000 signers of this petition of the Hearst newspapers.

DANGER DOES NOT LIE IN SHOWING BECOMING GRATITUDE TO THE MEN WHO WON VICTORY FOR US, BUT IN DENYING IT.

There is DANGER is every aspect of the existence among us of gigantic profits heaped up during the war by men who remained at home to enrich themselves while the sons of the people risked all in battle.

A grateful body of citizen-soldiery returned to comfortable living in the healing activities of peace after surviving the privations and perils of war is the SAFEST resource our Nation can possess.

But, gentlemen of the Congress, beware of a permanent feeling of disillusionment and discontent, beginning with a default upon the generous promises with which that citizen-soldiery was recruited for the war and furthered by persistent neglect.

That, Senator Thomas, is the danger to be feared.

Insofar as a grant of six months' pay will tend to show that seeming neglect is not wilful, its cost would be one of the BEST INVESTMENTS our Government ever made.

In any event, when 6,100,000 citizens petition Congress in one monster communication on a subject, it ought to indicate a public opinion which representatives of the people owe it to the people to respect.

Cardinal Mercier Will Be Given Royal Welcome in Boston

So Cardinal Mercier of Belgium is coming to Boston. How we shall welcome him! No clergyman in recent years has taken hold of the imagination of the civilized world as Cardinal Mercier.

He stood like a lighthouse in a storm of hate and terror. He was like an old Roman Tribune of the People, a sanctuary for the victims of misused power. With our own Ambassador Brand Whitlock he was the oasis of civilization in Belgium after the Germans came and applied to its unhappy people their policy of blood and iron and of terror. While Brand Whitlock's services were great and his conceptions of justice and mercy were splendid and his sacrifice of time was noble, yet Cardinal Mercier equalled him in all these virtues, but was obliged to exhibit still another virtue which our ambassador did not need to display. Mr. Whitlock had the physical power of the United States behind him. Cardinal Mercier had only the moral influence of his great church behind him. Brand Whitlock was never in danger of imprisonment or physical force. Cardinal Mercier had to face that danger always. But it never restrained his hand or silenced his tongue, and the German military leaders and the Kaiser squirmed under it many a time.

It was Cardinal Mercier's protest to the world against the German atrocities in Belgium which convinced the neutral world that Germany had abandoned all civilized restraints which stood between her and victory, and it was the knowledge of her conduct in Belgium, brought home to Americans largely by Cardinal Mercier, that turned American public opinion against Germany; and it was the turning of public opinion against Germany that finally put us into the war against her and resulted in defeat. If Germany had won the war, the German military caste and her landed aristocracy, with their control of press and pulpit and their moral philosophy that "might makes right," would have prevailed and set the example for the world. The Kaiser's court would have been the court which sycophantic Americans would seek to flutter about and those who now fawn at everything that is British would be fawning at everything that is German—not that the British are much better, but that we have now in Germany a great democracy and in Austria and Hungary a great democracy. While victory has temporarily taken democracy from Great Britain and France, yet the forms of democracy are there ready to be used as soon as the people unloose their minds from the military habit and resume the democratic ways.

So it is that Cardinal Mercier, by illuminating the dark places of the earth, has rendered an immense service to mankind, and so it is that Boston will welcome him with a royal welcome.

Study French Laws
Witch Doctors Unreliable
Grand Dukes a Warning

By Arthur Brisbane

Copyright, 1919.

It says, in the headline, "Wilson will get cause of high food prices this week. He will then ask Congress for law enabling him to remedy conditions." How nice if it were as simple as that. Just find out, and then remedy.

In Africa the witch doctor says, "I am going to find out why it does not rain, then I'll make it rain." He retires into his hut, howls dismally, paints himself up, unfolds his bits of magic bone and feathers, but he does not make it rain.

The French government has done some things worth studying. For instance, food cost is established, and the seller is allowed to make no more than fifteen per cent. profit. The price of bread is fixed according to the cost of wheat, plus a fair manufacturing and distributing profit. That was done long before the war and the endless kinds of fancy French bread were invented, including the snow white, pain de gruaud, because such fancy breads were not included in the price fixing. Anybody wanting fancy bread could pay a fancy price.

France also jails, at hard labor, anybody caught putting up the price of wheat artificially, through gambling operations, hoarding, or otherwise. That helps a good deal. There is just one thing the prosperous American does not like to gamble on, namely going to prison.

It is entertaining to read remarks that Henry, brother of the former Kaiser, addresses to his dear first cousin, King George of England. You are reminded of outstanding relatives in some law suit. Henry gives George one sound piece of advice, telling him it is against his interest to threaten the King business and let common men try a Kaiser. Especially for Henry's cousin George, he has let others do his thinking for him. That saves him now. The foolish Kaiser, not realizing that Kings forget how to think clearly after a few generations, tried to think for himself.

Fortunate are they that realize their limitations and are willing to be advised. King George and the Kaiser were a pair of obsolete royal vermiform appendices. The Kaiser got inflamed and they cut him out. What is the difference?

While the Senate is "plunging earnestly in the railroad problem," the government is peddling off as rapidly as possible ships that the people built with their money. Their ships are the natural necessary extensions of the nation's railroads, and neither should go into private hands to be used in the old way that led to bankruptcy.

The President, to whom the people look, should tell them just why he permits their ships to be sold while his board goes on building more ships at extravagant prices.

Is the Shipping Board an institution to build ships with public money to be sold on easy payment terms at less than cost to private individuals, the latter using them for exploitation?

That is how it looks to the average man who had the whole administration howling and yawling at him lately, begging him to buy bonds to build ships, as a sacred patriotic duty.

With lawlessness prevailing, would it not be a good idea for the government to set a good example and display activity against men accused of lawlessness on a big scale? For instance: A responsible government official, investigating the aircraft scandal, waste and graft, accused by name one very powerful financier magnate. One charge is that he built at government expense a railroad to benefit another railroad in which he was interested. If the charge is true the man should be prosecuted, no matter how much money he has, no matter how high an opinion the Cabinet officer that appointed him may have of him.

When a charge of this kind is made it's anybody's business to prosecute. If the same official had accused some clerk of stealing ten dollars worth of stamps, the clerk would have been arrested long ago. Does anyone believe that examples of lawlessness and immunity at the top of government will not stimulate lawlessness in lower circles?

The most powerful men in this country have all the money they really need now. They could get along without stealing the people's money for a little while without contriving to gouge them out of their mercantile fees, or otherwise arouse public indignation. The easy old times have gone for the present. There is restlessness and danger.

Some men ought to take their eyes off the ticker, take their hands out of the national pocket and read up on the recent history of Russia. It is full of enlightening little suggestions. The Grand Dukes also stole too much.
